Northeast Missouri
State Teachers College
Kirkville, Mo.

Verily the shadow of Joseph Baldwin envelops the students and all their activities -- academic and social -- at KSTC. "An institution is the lengthened shadow of one man," and our Alma Mater is the shadow of that man who envisioned a future in which the great destiny of our nation would demand teachers of a high quality. With the words "Thorough scholastic training lies at the foundation of a teacher's education" he set Kirksville State Teachers College on a near-century of noteworthy service in providing such educators.

Each student who pauses to glance at the lone figure in the heart of our campus may well be awed at the countless lives influenced by those teachers who have come to learn at this college and have become dedicated in his tradition.

This year has recorded dynamic growth and achievement in the Baldwinian tradition. A sense of the unlimited future pervades KSTC--while from his station its founder watches benignly the furthering of his noblest aspirations for that future.

Baldwin Hall, the most imposing structure on campus, is the hub of many school activities. A new student soon becomes acquainted with Baldwin Hall on registration day as he fights his way through the masses of other bewildered beginners.

After registration, Baldwin Hall settles into a normal routine of English, business, art, and music classes. Students rush to and from classes while sounds of music echo through the halls. Weekly assemblies and entertaining Lyceum programs also bring Teachers College students, faculty, and personnel to Baldwin Hall.

Administrative offices are located on the first floor to guide hesitant students through a prosperous college career.

Men's intramurals promote active athletic interest

Director Ralph Pink's enthusiasm for the Men's Intramural Program permeated what appeared to be the entire male enrollment at Northeast Missouri State, as record numbers of participants again demonstrated their desire for athletic competition. Even the most serious of the introverts set aside their books and became, in some small measure, definite contributors to a necessary, and an efficiently-run, program.

Fleetball served to boost the year's intramural activities into orbit. The Phi Sig All-Stars were the only fleetballers to maintain their altitude as they romped home with the school championship. Elsewhere, the 7:30 Freshmen Grads soaked up a mud and water filled trench with groaning Phi Sigs, and in the process became the new tug-of-war champs.

In termination of fall outdoors events, Rich Mantione toured the 1.7 mile course ahead of all other Turkey Day runners in record time. For his effort, he became the possessor of a live turkey.

Following the pattern of recent years, intramural basketball was the choice of the multitudes, again demonstrating an increase in popularity. Badminton, table tennis, indoor tennis, and the free throw tourney, likewise captured the interest of more men students.

As Bermuda shorts became observed in increased numbers, the clank of horseshoes and the crack of softball bats became familiar sounds, indicating that intramurals had once again stepped outside. With the eventful track and field meet, another year of successful intramural competition was completed.

Phi Sig's hope for another tug-of-war championship are more than dampened.

Climaxing his preparatory course of study, the student teacher serves an "apprenticeship" in which to test his skill. He observes experienced public school teachers in action and then applies know-how acquired during his four years of college.

Existing demand for more and better teachers coincides with the age of astronauts and increased school enrollment. Kirksville, the only so-named Teachers College in Missouri, is stepping up its curriculum to accommodate the record number of aspiring teachers pursuing their education.

Board members facilitate campus growth

Mr. Hubert Wheeler has been State Commissioner of Education since 1947. He serves as ex-officio member of the Board of Regents.

For the ultimate authority in solving all college problems it is necessary to turn to the Board of Regents. It is they who confirm the appointments of all college faculty members, determine the general operating policies of the College, and hold all the purse strings.

With the growth of the school, the work of the board becomes increasingly complex and time-consuming. No civic authority renders more vital service to any community than the Board of Regents.

The six members of the Board are appointed by the governor, with the approval of the State Senate, for a term of six years.

"If each of us will do his very best each day, then he can face his fellows and himself with the knowledge that he has done all that he can." Living such a philosophy ably represents the calm, deliberate manner and sound judgment of our Dean of Instruction, Dr. Wray Rieger.

An asset to Dr. Rieger's present position is his past experience with KSTC which began in 1927 as a laboratory assistant. He soon became an instructor, and his ability as an educator soon merited him a professorship and Head of the Division of Science and Mathematics. In 1960 he was appointed Dean of Instruction.

Dean Rieger has proven himself a true friend of education and a true friend of youth, one whose courage and leadership we can trust implicitly.

Architect's drawing of Ryle Dormitory for girls.

On January 6, 1959, a Planning Committee of the faculty was appointed whose function was to lead in formulating a long time program for the expansion and development of the teacher education program of the Missouri State Teachers College. This committee attempted to establish and organize the framework for a long time program that would cover all phases of our College's activities.

During the past year our College has grown to new heights. The enrollment reached nearly 3,300 students. Dobson Hall, a new dormitory housing 484 boys, was opened last September. The construction of another new dormitory housing 618 girls will soon be started. This is a good beginning but only a mere beginning of the program proposed by the Planning Committee for the growth and development of our College during the next decade.

I consider the ECHO as one of the important factors in the expansion and growth of our Teachers College. Its publication demands much effort and time on the part of many students who are to be congratulated on a fine publication.

President Ryle, an excellent administrator

President Ryle and his wife in their residence at 820 East Patterson.

Our president, Dr. Walter H. Ryle, has served the college in various capacities. These include Professor of Social Science and Head of the Bureau of Placements. But his chief contributions have been in the field of administration.

Appointed in 1937 as President of KSTC, Dr. Ryle has been throughout the years a tireless worker and a great organizer. The forward march of KSTC through the past 25 years has been largely due to his vision and his indefatigable efforts.

In the present academic year new records have been set: enrollment expanded, dormitories built, and faculty enlarged, all outward evidences of the tangible progress noteworthy throughout all the years of President Ryle's administration.

Features

Some students come to college for books. Others come for parties. But the majority of students who come to KSTC have a broader goal in mind. They come to the Teachers College first to learn facts and then to learn how to apply them.

For the enterprising student the campus is a community with all the cultural and social opportunities of a metropolis. Every week the stage is set for spectacular entertainment---classical or jazz, international celebrities or student stars.

Every student has his interests. Every department has its followers. And to fulfill the interests of the students and the departments there are lectures and activities every week.

This is campus life at KSTC. Not just books and classes. Not merely parties. But dances and plays, concerts and lectures, work and play are all an intricate part of the life in this campus community.

Sports

Typifying Northeast Missouri State's era of athletic prominence and dominance, the gridiron Bulldogs powered their way through a rough schedule and obtained new heights of prestige never before reached by a Kirksville football team. Not only was the MIAA conference crown their's for the second consecutive year, but an invitation to the Mineral Water Bowl in Excelsior Springs, Missouri was extended to the mighty 'Dogs, resulting in the destruction of a fine Parsons College eleven.

Kirksville's great cross-country and track squads were as overwhelming as ever, while the golf and tennis teams compiled commendable records. Only Big Purple basketball status suffered any perceptible slump in esteem, and at that, Bulldog cagers clearly demonstrated that this year's reconstruction period had shown promising results.

Bulldogs open victoriously against non-league foes

KIRKSVILLE 19 - WILLIAM JEWELL COLLEGE 0. William Jewell's Cardinals were sent into rapid flight by the fierce bark of the Kirksville Bulldogs as a 19-0 win indicated a season of promise for the defending MIAA champs. The contest was not actually determined until the final stanza when two Jewell passes fell into the clutches of enemy defenders and eventually produced Bulldogs scores. The fine running of Jack Jones and Ted Michael dissolved any doubt as to the effectiveness of Kirksville's running game, left riddled by the previous year's graduation.

KIRKSVILLE 27 - WASHBURN UNIVERSITY 9. Topeka, Kansas served as the scene of the second Bulldog triumph, and the Washburn University Ichabods were the sacrificial lambs. Riding home on the strong passing arm of Jack Ball and the defensive alertness of tackle Dave Grant, the swift, hard-hitting Kirksville machine shifted into high gear as it mowed down Washburn for the fourth consecutive year.

KIRKSVILLE 28 - NORTHERN ILLINOIS 13. At the immediate outset of the contest, it appeared as though Kirksville was in for a long night after Northern had drawn first blood with relative ease. It was just the inspiration needed by the Bulldogs as their half-hearted bark turned into the growling command "MUSH", sending the whining Huskies scampering home. The devastating Kirksville attack racked up 425 offensive yards, with well over half of the total accounted for by the fleet running of Ted Michael and Jack Jones.

Milt McPike launches an attack on a hapless Springfield back.

'Dogs pull Cape over top-pick Indians

KIRKSVILLE 14 - CENTRAL STATE of OHIO 21. In a game that Central State was picked to win by three touchdowns, the Kv. Bulldogs came very near making pre-game prognosticators eat their words. The Marauders opened strongly, terminating their scoring in the third period before the Purple and White came to life. With but 24 minutes remaining to be played, Janks Morton maneuvered his 200-odd pounds into position for two Jack Ball pay-dirt pitches, putting the 'Dogs back into contention. A final Kirkville drive faltered, however, ending a modest nine-game winning skein.

KIRKSVILLE 26 - CAPE GIRARDEAU 7. Kirkville took a giant step in its defense of the MIAA crown, trouncing pre-season pick Cape Girardeau with commanding authority. Following a first quarter defensive battle in which the muzzled Bulldogs could not move, Kirkville leased an attack that sent the Indians seeking the placidity of the Happy Hunting Grounds. Randy Jones, Janks Morton, and Joe Minton scored for Kv.

KIRKSVILLE 36 - MARYVILLE 7. All 8000 Homecoming fans on hand at Stokes Stadium could not have been more delighted with the superiority displayed by the formidable Big Purple. Not only did a Homecoming victory make the day brighter, but Kirkville retained possession of the famed hickory stick over arch-rival Maryville. The Bulldogs could do no wrong. Jack Ball had a particularly fruitful afternoon, passing for 295 yards and directing a ground offensive that racked up an additional 221 yards. Joe Minton was the scoring standout for Kirkville with 18 points while Jack Jones, Ted Michael, and Milt McPike also scored for the 'Dogs; Jones and McPike via the air routes.

Big Purple annex second league title in row

KIRKSVILLE 12 - SPRINGFIELD 7. In the most exciting finish staged by a Bulldog team in several seasons, Kirksville was forced by an obstinate Springfield aggregation to march 83 yards in the final 25 seconds to obtain victory. The 'Dogs didn't score until the fourth period when Jerry Germain crossed the pay-off stripe. After unsuccessfully trying for a two-pointer, the scoreboard read 7-6 until all-conference quarterback Jack Ball collaborated with Milt McPike on a desperation 19-yard pass to apply the coup de grace. Leading up to the climactic finish, Ball managed to radar in on Jack Jones with a 47-yard toss and to Germain with a 19-yarder.

KIRKSVILLE 14 - WARRENSBURG 7. A 14-7 victory gave Northeast Missouri State its fourth consecutive conference conquest, but aside from that the contest gave partisan Bulldog observers little to cheer about. The young Mules were indeed characteristic of their nickname as they stubbornly resisted any Kirksville offensive efforts past the first quarter when all the scoring occurred. It was during those initial 15 minutes that Ted Michael burst off tackle for 86 yards and a tally, and that Jack Ball lobbed a 45 yard pass to Randy Jones in the end zone.

KIRKSVILLE 20 - ROLLA 7. With a victory over the Rolla Miners, the Kirksville Bulldogs became sole possessors of the Missouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association championship. Although a very significant victory, it was not necessarily an outstanding one. The Purple and White tallied once in the first half, Joe Minton carrying over from the one. The final two Kirksville scores came on short plunges by Ted Michael and Bobby Watts in the final stanza.

Allen Church (84) and Jerry Germain offer little aid to Bobby Watts (42) in his thwarted attempt for additional yardage.

Bulldogs post win in initial bowl appearance

KIRKSVILLE 22 - PARSONS COLLEGE 8. Never in the history of the school had KSTC made its appearance in a post-season bowl game, and thus it was with little surprise that the Bulldogs were "up" for this one. The Parsons College Wildcats entered the Mineral Water Bowl contest with a perfect 9-0 won-lost record and a build-up which would have made any opponent's opportunity for victory appear bleak. The Bulldogs wasted little time in destroying Parsons' mythical superiority as Jerry German danced into the end zone with less than half the initial quarter gone. In the opening minutes of the second stanza, Germain again tallied, following on the heels of the first of two George Grimshaw interceptions. The Big Purple ended their scoring barely three minutes later on a pass from Jack Ball to Janks Morton.

To add spice to a sweet victory, Bulldog tackle Fred Lyles was named outstanding lineman of the game, while teammate Dave Grant, credited with 27 tackles, received the memorial award for best tackler.

These Warrensburg Mules have definite ideas about stopping Mike Vaia, but the gritty little halfback is doing some thinking of his own.

Five Bulldogs selected to all-conference eleven

In a decade of head coaching at Northeast Missouri State, Maurice "Red" Wade has directed no finer team with more impressive credentials than the 1961 version of Bulldog gridders. With but a single blemish on their record, the 1961 Bulldogs established themselves as the most successful team in KSTC history with a 9-1 seasonal mark. Included in Bulldog accomplishments were a victory in the first bowl game in the school's history, the Mineral Water Bowl in Excelsior Springs, Missouri, and an undisputed conference championship, the second in as many years.

En route to the league title, the Northeast Missourians impressed conference coaches to the extent that nine regular squadmen were placed on the first two all-conference teams. Those named to the mythical eleven were senior end Milt McPike of Jacksonville, Illinois; sophomore tackle Dave Grant of St. Louis; senior guard Ron Stark of St. Petersburg, Florida; senior center Pat Claywell of St. Louis; and junior quarterback Jack Ball of Chicago.

Bulldog representatives on the second squad included senior end Allen Church of East St. Louis, Illinois; junior tackle Fred Lyles of St. Louis; junior fullback Joe Minton of St. Louis; and sophomore halfback Ted Michael of Milan. End Randy Jones missed a second team berth by one vote.

Bulldogs open with young squad

Coach Boyd King could hardly command sufficient Bulldog spirit as he was faced with rebuilding a great Bulldog tradition around only four returning lettermen, the fewest ever under his long and highly successful tenure at Northeast Missouri State. These lettermen and other returning squadmen represented a meager 33% of the previous year's offensive punch, a figure lower than any other conference team.

The Purple and White were slightly encouraged with a season opening 62-52 victory over IOWA WESLEYAN, only to have waves of pessimism fill the air following the next three encounters. WESTERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY applied the initial reverse spin in a 91-73 romp, and in doing so set an example for ROCK-HURST COLLEGE, the Hawks tiptoeing home 74-71. The redoubtable SOUTHERN ILLINOIS UNIVERSITY Salukis continued the Bulldog skid by posting a 110-76 conquest, representing the highest point total ever amassed against a Bulldog team.

Big Purple cagers show signs of promise

Tasting the sweetness of victory for the second time, the 'Dogs meshed 28 of 30 free throws in disposing of WILLIAM PENN COLLEGE, 74-67. A four point lost to perennial rival, QUINCY COLLEGE, ended all competition prior to the MIAA Holiday Tournament.

ARKANSAS TECH provided first round action for the win-hungry Bulldogs, but the Purple and White cagers faltered again, 70-60. Kirksville finally found the range against ROLLA, and then streaked superbly past the SPRINGFIELD Bears to capture fifth place. Senior standout MILT McPIKE, who smashed both the single and three-game rebounding record, was the only Kirksville representative on the all-tournament team.

League opponents gang up on 'Dogs

In Kirksville's initial league encounter, CAPE GIRARDEAU'S mighty Indians clearly demonstrated that their peace-pipe had been left at home as they rode past the 'Dogs, 72-59. Three more narrow defeats constituted the season's longest losing streak for the Bulldogs. WARRENSBURG added a 78-74 blemish to Kirksville's already unsightly record, and SPRINGFIELD followed suit with a 99-96 overtime win, despite Eddie Brown's 26 markers. The WARRENSBURG Mules again kicked the 'Dogs a smarting blow, the final score ending at 70-69. Jerry Germain poured 27 through for KSTC.

Once again hitting the victory trail at the expense of lowly ROLLA, Kirksville enjoyed that rare feeling of victory before succumbing to the voracious ROCKHURST COLLEGE Hawks twenty-four hours later.

Kirksville's hustling Bulldogs bounced visiting MARYVILLE out the rear entrance of Pershing Building, 62-53, in an act of vengeance, treated QUINCY COLLEGE in an even ruder manner as the century mark was surpassed. Milt McPike and Dan Hrysko accounted for nearly one half of Kirksville's points.

All-American Charlie Vaughn (21) makes a vain effort to prevent Kirksville's Jerry Germain from meshing a bucket.

Season closes on bright note

Eventual conference champion CAPE GIRARDEAU had about all they could handle in the upstart Bulldogs, but managed to hold a three point margin over their rivals at the final buzzer. The consistent scoring of Milt McPike, Rich Daly, and Jerry Germain balanced the Bulldog offensive attack. ROLLA fell before the 'Dogs a third time, 91-74, before SPRINGFIELD could put the wraps on the Big Purple.

The taste of an early season defeat by WESTERN ILLINOIS still lingered with the pesky Bulldog cagemen. Not letting up for a moment, the charging 'Dogs softened the tough Leatherneck quintet and pushed them off the Pershing Building hardwoods to the tune of 82-76. The Purple and White closed the season on a happy note by taming the MARYVILLE Bearcats, 69-50.

Rack up two for the 'Dogs!

McPike honored by all-league selection

Upon reviewing the Bulldogs' unimposing 10-12 record for the 1961-1962 season, it would seem an act of hypocrisy to heap any plaudits upon the Big Purple. However, records don't always present the true story, as is the case in this instance. A large portion of the season was punctuated by frustration and disappointment; and, with a few small turn of events, a losing season could well have been converted into a winning one.

Of all the conference schools, only Cape Girardeau was able to defeat the 'Dogs by more than six points, and in a return engagement between the two teams, the Indians were fortunate to escape with their scalps. The Purple and White also avenged two non-conference losses with authoritative victories.

Big Milt McPike, Kirksville's remarkable all around athlete and outstanding roundballer, was selected to the mythical MIAA All-Conference first team by conference coaches. Bulldog Jerry Germain, only a sophomore but already an established MIAA veteran, received a second team berth, while Eddie Brown barely missed.

Aside from McPike who is a senior, in the ensuing year Kirksville will be without the services of seniors Gary Hendren and Rich Daly, two dependable playmaking guards.

Thinclads defend league titles

It appeared a virtual certainty that Coach Kenneth Gardner's crew of cindermen would repeat as the MIAA Indoor and Outdoor track champions for the fourth consecutive year. A wealth of talent including several conference champs, and impressive showings against stiff competition in two opening meets, served as substantiating evidence of such a brash statement.

Running in the University of Illinois Open against such awesome sounding names as Purdue, Northwestern, Illinois, and Butler, the swift Bulldogs placed in 11 of 12 events entered. Three weeks later found the Purple and White thinclads in Columbia, Missouri, placing second to the University of Missouri and well ahead of Arkansas University.

Among other meets included in the 1962 campaign were the Kansas State Relays, Drake Relays, and the NC AA District and Finals.

Harriers grab third straight conference title

In the last several years Kirksville cross-country teams have acquired a habit of winning, and this year was no exception. After a season opening defeat by William Jewell College, the invincible Bulldogs proceeded to out-puff all opposition and capture their remaining nine starts.

In their march toward the most successful cross-country season in school history, the Dr.

George Hermann-coached harriers, behind the pacing of Ed Schneider, began their reign as the new Midwest AAU kingpins. And in a practice that has become old hat to Kirksville, the Bulldogs annexed the MIAA conference title for the third time in as many years by coming home in five of the first six positions. Long-winded Bulldogs Floyd Waddle and Jim Shepard finished first and second, respectively.

Tennis squad strengthened by four lettermen

Coach Ralph Pink was heartened by the return of four lettermen, bolstering a squad that hoped to improve upon last year's 8-4 and second place finish in the MIAA. Included in this list of experienced racketmen were number one man, Rich Hudson, numbers five and six players, Mike Chehval and Glenn Robertson, respectively, and Lynn Byars, a letterman from the 1931 Bulldog team.

As an added incentive for victory, much-needed new tennis courts provided Big Purple netmen with a permanent home on which to battle foes.

Golfers view campaign with optimism

Bulldog linkmen were blasting down the fairways in anticipation of an improvement over last year's second place finish in the NCAA Midwest Regional. Gone were several stalwarts from the 1961 squad, but Coach Bill Richerson, in his rookie year at KSTC, was counting heavily on three returning lettermen and several promising newcomers to add another chapter of success in the Big Purple athletic story.

Greeks

Fraternity men and women are just like the average free student, they too have their ups and downs.

Greek-minded students feel a fraternity or sorority has a four-fold purpose. Intellectual stimulation is provided by "bullsessions" among the brothers. Physical development is achieved by participation in the fine intramural program on our campus. Social life of a Greek is infamous, but stressing of etiquette and manners is not. Scholarship is advanced by another type of "bull session" or study group.

Leadership qualities are recognized and put to use through the development of responsibility to school, fraternity, and self.

Life-long friendships are established by a feeling of brotherhood, sharing of common interest, and cooperating with others.

Whether to become organized or not remains a personal problem. Some couldn't get along without the "brethren", others couldn't get along with them.

ASA's work with mentally retarded

As their philanthropic project, the Alphas assisted at the Mentally Retarded School and entertained with a Christmas party. Their spring social life included the Mother's Day Tea, Breakfast Dance and the Annual Sweetheart Dance at which Susan Shettle was crowned "Alpha Sigma Alpha Sweetheart" thus adding another memorable chapter to their history.

A year of honors, offices, challenges, and rewards was combined with fun in the sisterhood of Alpha Sigma Alpha. The Alphas look back on a successful year of dinners, parties, caroling, rummage sales, and ceremonies.

Advantages of being an Alpha Sigma were recognized by twenty-two girls who were welcomed as pledges after attending "Alpha-Traz" and "Southern Array with ASA," the fall rush parties.

Actives danced their way into the hearts of prospective pledges at "Alpha-Traz."

"Hurrah! We succeeded." This was the proud feelings of the Deltas as they gained permanent possession of the Scholarship cup by winning it consecutively for three years.

DZ's started the year with an exotic rush party, Delta Zeta Polynesian Village, complete with roasted pig, hula skirts and a black-faced witch doctor with a boiling couldron. The setting of the second rush party was "Grecian Gardens." After two successful rush parties 27 girls pledged Delta Zeta filling the quota of 60 girls.

Homecoming was a joyous day for Sig Kaps

"A night to remember!" Her majesty Carla Cunningham was crowned Homecoming Queen of 1961-62. With the combined efforts of Sigma Kappa and Alpha Kappa Lambda, the "Key to Victory" float won second prize.

As a chariot approached Blanton Hall, Grecian goddesses in magnificent attire waited patiently. Once aboard, they were taken to the formal rush party of Sigma Kappa, the "Garden of the Gods." There at Mt. Olympus, they were wine and dined around the Fountain of Eternal Youth.

"Pearl Party" high-lighted Sigma Kappa's formal rush parties. Guest speaker was Jo Ann Zimmerer, traveling secretary of Sigma Kappa. The results were well worth the efforts---twenty pledges wanting to go "One Heart, One way."

Tri Sigmas attend national convention

Warming to the mild climate of Kentucky and sisterhood with Sigma Sigma Sigmas from all over the country, five Mu Chapter delegates traveled enthusiastically to the National Convention in the summer. The impact of their experiences has been reflected in this year's activities of the Tri Sigmas.

At the first fall rush party charmed guests were in an atmosphere of sun-lit sands under South Sea palms in "Sigma Mai-Kai." The second rush party was "Through the Looking Glass" with Alice in Wonderland.

In the spring the Tri Sigmas, including the twenty new initiates, spent an evening "Aboard the S. S. Sigma" at their Spring Formal. The evening consisted of swirling chiffon and purple punch.

Panhellenic correlates sorority activities

Panhellenic raises money for scholarship fund by selling stickers.

Under the leadership of its president, Janyce Worrell, sorority rush programs are scheduled and dispatched by the Panhellenic Council. Panhellenic sets up the rules governing the rush functions.

Panhellenic sponsors a scholarship award to be presented to a foreign girl on campus. The proceeds are accumulated by selling theater tickets and K.S.T.C. stickers in Baldwin Hall.

This Council helps with the registration of guests on Parents Day, on Senior Day and serves at the President's Reception.

I.F.C. governs rush functions

Interfraternity Council rules guide the fraternities in their rush functions. More students signed up for rush this year than ever before. IFC, in cooperation with Panhellenic, presents a Greek Week assembly and dance during the fall.

This Council sponsors an annual spring Banquet at which the President's Scholarship Cup is presented to the fraternity having the highest honor point ratio.

IFC is composed of three members from each fraternity and its sponsor, Dr. Gilbert Kohlenberg. This group acts as an arbitrator when disputes arise between fraternities.

IFC president, Jack Ward, congratulates Joe Stevenson, Tau Kappa Epsilon president, upon receiving permission to colonize on campus.

After numerous welcome back parties, the Phi Sigs settled down to more serious business at hand, intent on making the new school year another big success.

On the fall agenda of activities, Homecoming received pre-eminent consideration. All hands pitched in to bring home a first place spirit division float.

Phi Sigma Epsilon was vaulted into the direction of an unprecedented third consecutive all-school intramural championship with first and second place finishes in fleetball and tug-of-war competition, respectively, and a league championship in volleyball.

Rushing efforts were not vain efforts as Phi Sigma Epsilon received 43 men into the pledge ranks of Gamma Chapter.

Probably cherishing no symbol of accomplishment with more fervency than the President's Scholarship Cup, the Phi Sigs were striving to maintain that academic excellence necessary for the retention of the cup and the honor.

Jerry Henderson tells this pledge, "Sell 200 cans of candy by the end of pledge season or else!"

Organizations

Much of the time spent after classes goes into extra-curricular activities. KSTC fosters social and professional clubs whose roots lie in both national organizations and local founders.

From religious groups to political auxiliaries, club meeting notices clutter bulletin boards. Signboard pounded in the grass, posters tied to trees, announcements for assemblies---all herald the energy and progress of the organization.

Some are honorary, in which membership becomes a reward for scholarship or service. Others aggregate vested interests---artists meet to compare canvasses, debaters meet to match wits. Be they agriculturalists or historians, each member loyally guards the standards of his favorite club and cherishes its name on his transcript, wearing a tarnished pin or ragged sweater for many years after graduation.

Student Council College Bowl

During 1961-62, Student Council idea-men initiated the Campus Bowl, an inter-collegiate quiz show based on television's College Bowl. In a meeting of minds, teams vie for victory in Campus Bowl's battle of wits.

If collegians enjoy good times or benefit from timely reforms, they may often thank the KSTC Student Council. Progress is this organization's most important product.

Entertainment comes cheap when the Council subsidizes weekly movies. Billboard offerings included "Raisin in the Sun," "Young Philadelphians," and others.

At the polls, students effected a change in the Student Council Constitution which raised honor point requirements for members and instituted new policies on absentee balloting.

Homecoming, Christmas Dance, Campus-Town Races, and Fun Festival exemplify more work of Student Council. Its members, elected by popular vote, work closely with the administration.

"Imagine, only twenty cents for the movies," marvels Fritz Gottschalk as she buys a ticket to the weekly Student Council film.

Social committee arrives early . . stays late

"Tea time" at the Teachers College is really "work day" for the Student Social Committee, whose job it is to plan social events. Their socializing behind the scenes matches that in front, as they come early and stay late.

The real artists can't be separated from the "just plain hard workers" when the Social Committee tears into a job of decorating for a Student Council dance, be it Homecoming, Christmas, or ECHO. Though crepe paper streamers, rickety ladders, and Elmer's glue proves its existence, the Student Social Committee is actually legalized by the Student Council Constitution.

The twenty-one member committee is composed of students picked and screened from application. The Dean of Women and a faculty committee, as well as the Student Council chooses the members.

With Joan Burt on the pliers, Edwin Smith holding the greenery, and Eleanor Yackley tying the wire, Christmas decorations go up.

"My receipt, please," Jim Green's sarcasm is softened by his vibrant Bulldog spirit. Jim and Bev Taylor make a deal with Dee Ann Stine: a quarter for Cardinal Key in exchange for saucy shakers.

Across glossy library tables, Cardinal Key girls whisper the words of wisdom that win for them their sisterhood.

Service sorority sells shakers to stir spirit

Selling shakers and Homecoming buttons to students, Cardinal Key promotes school spirit. KSTC's Eugene Fair Chapter sells such items to continue their traditional reputation as a service sorority to the college.

Each year this Chapter awards the Nan E. Wade Scholarship, named for a past sponsor, to a girl on the basis of student need and grade average.

Sister organization to Blue Key, members of Cardinal Key are chosen for their qualities of leadership, scholarship, character, and participation in school activities. New members must be nominated by the chapter and chosen by a faculty committee.

Blue Key men are organization men

To enjoy the privileges and prestige that follow the wearer of a light blue Blue Key sweater is the goal of every conscientious man on campus. Members of the Blue Key Honorary Fraternity must have a 2.0 honor point ratio accumulated over sixty semester hours. Belonging to two campus organizations other than social fraternities is another requirement.

Aspiring to serve the school, Blue Key forsees real needs. This year, the organization purchased an American flag to be displayed at athletic events in Pershing Building. Their annual publication, the Blue Key Directory, lists students' phone numbers, becoming an ever-ready date guide.

At Homecoming, Blue Key men take charge of parade plans. Through their efforts, the Homecoming week-end outranks all others in fun and festivity.

The "Power of Money" satisfies Blue Key's treasury and Dr. Mittler's Student Directory supply. Wally Johnson and Jerry Noble condone capitalism.

Alpha Phi Sigma rewards scholarship

"A dillar, a dollar, a three-consecutive-quarters-an-S-average scholar" can join Alpha Phi Sigma, national scholastic fraternity.

Members meet to hear faculty speakers expound on topics ranging from biology to student teaching twice a month. The outstanding graduating member each year receives a key and certificate recognizing his services.

Founded on the KSTC campus in 1921, Alpha Phi Sigma exists for the recognition of high scholarship.

Faculty honored in Phi Delta Kappa

Phi Delta Kappa is in its third year on our campus. The Epsilon Gamma chapter was installed here in November, 1959.

Phi Delta Kappa was originally a university fraternity for men in Education, but in recent years it has expanded into all teachers colleges which offer graduate work.

Phi Delta Kappa is found on more than one hundred campuses. It also has many field chapters which, however, until recently did not initiate new members. Kirksville was the home of a field chapter from 1928 to 1959, but the field chapter has now disbanded and its members joined the the campus chapter. Monthly meetings are held and attended by faculty members, student members now on campus and members of the teaching profession within a short driving distance. Epsilon Gamma chapter does not initiate undergraduate students.

Provision was made recently for an undergraduate scholarship of $120 to be awarded to an outstanding male student in the professional college.

Officers for 1961-62 were: Frank Colton, president; Clive Frazier and Hugh Gardner, vice-presidents, Donald Scriven, secretary-treasurer; P. O. Selby, historian; Linn Terry, sponsor.

A scout is trustworthy, loyal, etc. to his mother's advice that soda is bad for a growing boy: He leaves it for the men of Alpha Phi Omega instead.

On my honor I will try . . . still upheld by APO

From the rank of the noble eagle to that of the lowly tenderfoot, college men with scouting experience may join Alpha Phi Omega service fraternity.

Flying in the face of modern America's "accent on youth" and physical beauty, this organization promotes an annual deviation from this norm: Their Ugly Man Contest presents the opposite spectacle of men vying for the signal honor of being elected as the prototype of horrible looks.

Alpha Phi Omega also performs a number of other services for the campus. The members had special programs printed for Homecoming and distributed at the Homecoming pep assembly. Another special project was the passing out of desk blotters to students in the dorm. Also, they acted as judges at Kirksville area scouting exhibitions commemorating the 52nd anniversary of scouting. To this organization, also, is given a special charge as guardian of the Christmas spirit. It provides a campus Yuletide tree to remind students of the season.

Republicans and Democrats share sole interest . . . politics

Donkeys and Elephants may not really be political animals in a state of nature, but man -- at least many college men and women at KSTC who belong to Young Democrats or Young Republicans--seems to be in his modern state.

Both organizations discussed forthcoming elections and heard guest speakers "ascend the soapbox" to speak on political ideas and platforms. Dr. William Hatcher, professor of political science at the Teachers College, spoke at a joint session (for banquet purposes) of the two groups at Elaine's Dining Room.

Meeting in separate caucus the two organizations also heard less bipartisan oratory. Dr. Lucy Simmons, social science professor emeritus, informed Young Democrats more fully about their party. Mr. Don Scriven, assistant professor of economics, spoke similarly to their Republican counterparts.

As a safety valve against extreme partisan thinking, both organizations are fortunate to share a member who has not yet decided his political affiliation.

YOUNG DEMOCRATS--ROW ONE: M. Sweeney, treasurer; L. Tate, vice-president; J. Jepson, president; A. Cozzoni, sergeant-at-arms; I. Hibler, Dr. Knobbs, sponsor. ROW TWO: R. Shoemyer, C. Loughridge, M. Steinmetz, K. Dinsmore, T. Horace, M. Stump, B. Buckman,

One reward for studying until the wee hours of the morning, looking up extra references, and working overtime in the lab is qualification for membership in Kappa Delta Pi.

A member must be at least a junior with a 2.0 honor point ratio and five hours of educational courses. Kappa Delta Pi encourages and rewards high professional, intellectual, and personal standards.

Enlightening programs are offered twice monthly. The organization holds an initiation banquet each quarter to honor new members. A promising sophomore is, at assembly, awarded a twenty-five dollar scholarship.

It's the "wheels" that make the machine go 'round in an organization such as Kappa Delta Pi headed by Pauline Knobbs, sponsor; Bruce Haley, president; and Pat Duffey, secretary.

Convincing or confusing . . . debating is Pi Kappa Delta's business

"Resolved--that debating is a worthwhile and mentally stimulating activity" is a proposition for which no con takers can be found among members of Pi Kappa Delta debating society.

Missouri Theta Chapter participates in five to twelve tournaments each year. This Chapter sponsors the Midwest speech tournament and the Regents Award to the winners of their special local debate contest. Mr. Sherod Collins, of the speech faculty, sponsors this organization.

Members expended much thought and word attacking and defending the proposition that labor unions should come under the jurisdiction of anti-trust laws. This question received the attention of like groups all over the United States as the theme for this year's debates.

Accenting articulation . . . Oral Interpreters promotes literature

Resonant tone and cultured vocal inflection soothed the enlightened audience on five public appearances of the Oral Intrepreters. Dr. Elizabeth Worrell, sponsor, read "The Letters of Elizabeth Barrett and Robert Browning." Also, "Christmas Country" gave the group an opportunity to present choral readings, a contemporary play, and Spanish poetry.

College Players drank coffee backstage with the cast of the Stephens College production of "Taming of the Shrew." A special invitation was extended from Stephens after "A Comedy of Errors" was presented at KSTC.

Dramatics being their first love, club members sponsor art films and stage plays. Opportunities to direct, act, and design sets give College Players good background in their field of endeavor.

Index staff sends weekly news to press

Aspiring journalists in publications classes work toward membership in Alpha Phi Gamma, an honorary journalistic fraternity. Membership to Alpha Phi Gamma, founded on our campus in 1959, is limited to students with at least a sophomores standing, who have an over-all grade point of 1.2. They must have had at least three quarters of journalism work with an S average, and an elective position on the Index staff.

Once a year the Index is placed in the experienced hands of Alpha Phi Gamma. They once again write all the copy, proof-read, plan pictures, and experience the satisfied feeling of putting the latest issue to press.

With Spartan-like devotion, Physical Education majors keep in shape.

Stre-e-e-etch! Physical fitness is good for the rib-cage, at least.

PEM Girls become fitness fiends

President Kennedy take note! There are kindred spirits in the White House emphasis on physical fitness here on the KSTC campus: The women of the Physical Education Majors Club spearhead the local fitness program. This club strives to encourage high standards of leadership and scholarship in the fields of physical education and recreation.

In a program by an international figure-skating champion the members vicariously swished through the graceful lines of the figure eight. Other programs included a talk by a track official of the Rome Olympics, a panel on foreign physical education programs, and a trip to National Convention in Cincinnati, Ohio. By newsletter, contact with graduates all over the country was re-established. A coffee held during the Homecoming season and a chili supper rounded out the year's social activities.

Cries of "play ball" echo throughout the women's gym, and members of the Women's Athletic Association show off their sporting talents. The WAA sponsors school-wide basketball, volleyball, and softball tournaments for the sports-minded females of KSTC.

Each spring, the association sponsors a volleyball sportsday in which girls' teams from several Missouri and Iowa schools participate. Capping the year's activities is the spring banquet where the annual awards are presented.

Awe and admiration ensue with scrutiny of Student National Education Association's roster of membership. One-hundred-forty education majors meet the standards and challenges and reap the rewards of N.E.A.'s collegiate auxiliary.

State Convention in St. Louis saw Jim Soderstrom, local S.N.E.A. president, take the gavel to preside on a state level.

Subscription to "NEA Journal" and "School and Community Magazine" exemplified just one benefit to successful teaching made available by S.N.E.A. to its members. Mr. Richard Carrigan, director of S.N.E.A., visited campus this fall as guest of KSTC's organization.

Industrial Arts Club awards blue ribbons

Acting as judges in contests and fairs, Industrial Arts Club men combine the thrill of awarding blue ribbons with the drudgery of difficult decisions. Such judging allows members to practice techniques learned in class and further establish their well-earned reputation of service. The Northeast Missouri Industrial Arts Fair and Spring Agriculture Contests are annual tasks. Likewise, I.A. boys act as guides on Parents Day.

"Kansas City, here we come" rings through the bus that takes the Club to the city each year to visit industries. Professional meetings with guest speakers keep their shared interests ever-present.

Decorating the coats of club members, the public views a new pin which was designed by Industrial Arts Club. A traditional mechanical Homecoming float was also planned and constructed.

Known as campus builders, these Industrial Arts majors are called upon to build trophy cases, set up buzzer devices, and wire public address systems. Their willingness to help others characterizes the main aims of the club.

Jack-of-all-trades, the jigsaw turns out everything from bed posts to pipe racks.

Handwork oftentimes takes a back seat, and bookwork reigns for beginning Industrial Arts majors.

"Ankle bone connected to the leg bone . . . ." Ed Smith authoritatively explains art and anatomy to Don Freeman.

Honorary Art Club "draws" votes from judges for float

If there is an art to winning Homecoming float prizes, the Honorary Art Club must know the technique well. Their float, "Bulldogs will snow 'em and sleigh 'em" snowed the judges, because it took top honors in two categories: Those of beauty and overall quality (for the latter of which their creation won the Homecoming traveling trophy).

Spectators were duly "snowed and slain" with the Art Club's winning "Snow 'Em and Sleigh 'Em Homecoming float.

Parliamentary debate denotes Pre-Law Club

"Mr. Chairman, I rise to a point of order!" Remarks like this stimulate a courtroom-like atmosphere of parliamentary debate during Pre-Law Club sessions.

Lawyers are often invited to lecture at the meetings. Edward Jayne and Vance Frick, local attorneys, were guest speakers.

The club saw a film entitled, "Mastery of the Law," which realistically portrayed various aspects of law practice. Also, the pre-lawyers attend the mock legislature at Jefferson City. This activity included a party caucus and an election of a "governor" and other state officers.

"We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice . . ."

A.C.E. members express their love for children through volunteer duty

Children's laughter ringing in play rooms, chocolate-covered fingers piling colored blocks, and bandaged knees heralding tree-climbing victories are just a few of the charms of youth which draw members to the Association of Childhood Education.

A.C.E. members are united in their love of children. All work toward degrees in Elementary Education.

Their good works include volunteer duty at the Kirksville Training School for Retarded Children and collection of Christmas toys for needy boys and girls. Such projects help A.C.E. members fulfill their purpose: The promotion of the well-being and education of children in the school, home, and community.

"See Spot run," reflects the simple straight-forwardness of a first-grader.

Agriculture boys "make hay" at barnwarming

Mrs. O'Leary's cow did not kick the lantern, but Colhecon and Agriculture Club successfully warmed the barn, as is the annual tradition in the two clubs, without her services. Calls of "do-se-do your corner!" and "right and left grand!" to the rhythm of feet stomping straw lifted the spirits of Farmer Brown and his country gal at this festive Barnwarming Dance.

School-spirited ag boys also bade the Bulldogs "plow 'em under!" via their Homecoming float, and ate heartily at their Forest Lake picnic.

Who will be the lucky winner of the Spring Soil Contests judged by these Vocational Agriculture men?

Colhecon aspires to good food and neat housekeeping

Connoisseurs of fine foods, all — Colhecon members enhance their meetings with delicious desserts. The hostesses who conduct the most original and palatable refreshments are awarded a prize at the Club's senior banquet.

College Home Economics Club meets, alternately, in a social and professional spirit. In the social vein, the fall freshman get-acquainted picnic is most memorable. With the men in Agriculture Club, Colhecon returns to an atmosphere of "down on the farm" for annual Barnwarming Dance.

Using their home-making talents in business enterprises, as well, the girls hold baked food sales to increase Colhecon's gold reserve.

Each and every effort, be it in fun or all seriousness, is bent toward their goal of making excellent homes for American families of the future.

"The way to a man's heart is through his stomach," is as good a theory today as on the day it was coined.

Aeolian Club sounds off

Aeolian Club members compose, conduct, and vocalize in the sheer ecstasy of their favorite sound: music. These music education majors belong to national and state organizations as well.

Attendance at Missouri's Music Educators Convention offers to the Aeolian Club harmonious clinics and displays.

World citizens unite

"Unity is Strength," theme of the International Club's Homecoming float, epitomizes the aims of the campus cosmopolitan set.

Fellow world travelers relish rice, tequila, wurst, and ice cream together at their Christmas party. This year festivities were held December eighth in Women's Gym.

Historical Society honestly views the past

Man has long looked to his past as an explanation of his present-day situation; and though this is a horrible thing to blame on the past, members of the KSTC Historical Society try to look at the past honestly and objectively.

Intellectual highlight of the club year occurred when the organization journeyed to South Missouri to see permanent relics of history. At the annual spring banquet, a noted scholar was invited to speak before the group.

Collegians interested in the social sciences may join the Historical Society, and the programs are intended to advance and supplement the members' knowledge of that field as gained in the college classroom.

Wally Johnson, president of the Society, says, "We feel that the scope of our understanding has matured as a result of the agenda of activities which we experienced this year."

"Imagine wearing it!" dumbfounded Robert Johnson, Mrs. W. M. Rieger, and Walter Johnson thank their lucky stars that chivalry is dead.

Honor ratios high in Sigma Zeta

"E" equals not  $mc^2$  but the usual grade earned by the members of Sigma Zeta, national honorary science society. This is an organization with one of the highest honor point ratios on campus.

Programs on everything from packing houses to the chemistry of the gene topped the intellectual bill of fare for Sigma Zeta members this year. The group participates in the Annual Science Fair. Science and math majors who maintain high scholarship in their field of study may join.

Pi Omega Pi members see Chicago

Business of Pi Omega Pi may be business, but when it's national convention time in Chicago, who cares if a little pleasure gets mixed in!

Though formal initiation is the year's solemn highlight, hard working future secretaries and executives don't mind emerging from stacks of musty ledgers and untranscribed shorthand notes to "give the business" to new members informally.

Founded on this campus by Dr. P. O. Selby in 1923, Alpha Chapter has since sired 108 chapters with over 22,000 members.

Doctors and nurses guard health together

"Carry on, nurse" can now be heard above the familiar "Rah, Rah, Bulldogs" on campus, as Mrs. Sarah Wimp's student nurses embark on a new and rigorous training program for school and registered nurses.

To qualify as a school or registered nurse, each student must go through four nine-month periods of study and two summers of general duty. Upon completing training, the "lady in white" receives her B.S. in Education.

As the Twist craze takes its toll of long-suffering back and sacroiliac, the men of KSTC's Pre-Osteopathic Club aspire to someday help properly twist them back into place.

Instructional movies and lectures and demonstrations by Osteopathic physicians, including at least one anatomy demonstration at KCOS each year, form the bulk of program material. The spring trip to Macon Sanitarium highlights the club year.

K-Club athletes excel on track and court

Formidable of bark and bite on turf, court, and cinder, the greats of the "Big Purple" serve the college through their K-Club organization. The club promotes such worthy projects as sponsorship of the annual football homecoming pep assembly and the R.E. Valentine scholarship, a quarterly grant to the member with outstanding scholastic achievement. Capping the social calendar is the spring banquet-outing.

A social-professional organization, the K-Club was founded on this campus in 1915. Any varsity letterman is eligible for membership, and all graduate members in good standing receive a lifetime pass to KSTC athletic activities. The members themselves raise funds for the club. This year the major source of income was the Marques Haynes' Harlem Magician basketball game in early spring. The club strives to promote public relations in athletics.

High-kicking K-Dettes perform at games and parades

Chief Sett'n' Bull in leotards? No, that was just the K-Dettes holding their Indian powwow for entertainment during a basketball game half-time. School spirit in skirts, the K-Dettes spice up college parades and ball games.

K-Dettes were "heap good medicine" on another occasion. Spectators at the Mineral Bowl football classic between the champion gridiron Bulldogs and Parsons College needed no soothing mineral water as a bracer against the stiff winter winds when these girls appeared to charm away the chill.

Homecoming found them rhythmically pounding Kirkville's pavements, a most cheery sight to old grads. Veteran performers under the capable guidance of choreographer Al Srnka, the girls also graced the ranks of the Veterans Day Parade.

Look out, Russia! Here comes KSTC's answer to 50 megatons.

Precision marching by the shapely K-Dettes adds a feminine note to parades.

Try-outs in September grouped together five talented girls who had never performed together previously. They made a sparkling asset at the half-time, during football season when they worked with the band under the supervision of Mr. Duden.

Displaying excellent teamwork they led the Homecoming parade and also twirled at the Pep Rally in Pershing before the Queen's coronation. Their last appearance this year was in Excelsior Springs where they gave a spectacular performance during half-time of the Mineral Bowl!

With a bright blare of shining brass and black woodwinds the Varsity Band strutted on the field. White tassels fluttered in the wind, the baton was raised, and the band showed its musical and marching prowess. Besides playing for all the home games, the band participated in the half time ceremonies at the Mineral Bowl game. During basketball season, the Varsity Band divided into three pep boosted bands.

During its annual spring tour, the Concert Band presented approximately fifteen concerts in Missouri, Illinois, and Iowa. As its "swan song", the Concert Band presented a post-tour concert in Kirksville.

Audiences delight in orchestra rendition of Handel's "Messiah"

Thrilled audiences rose respectfully to the chords of Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus" as the Orchestra rendered THE MESSIAH with talent and technique. Concerts throughout the year as well as the annual opera give music enthusiasts an opportunity to play or hear the finest, most enjoyable musical literature.

As in many college communities, adults not regularly enrolled in college who are proficient on their instruments play in the orchestra. William Fitzsimmons, conductor, is building his group up to a full symphonic complement.

A light vein was introduced to the orchestra's cultural contributions this spring when they played "The Beggar's Opera." Ron Shroyer and Joe Hall, orchestra members, collaborated in the composition of a score for "A Comedy of Errors," which one section of the group played.

Classical music and light lyrics vary repertoire of NEMO singers

"Do ra mi" trilled up and down a scale permeates the campus. It's the Nemo Singers practicing in the north end of Baldwin Hall. The Nemo's are carefully chosen by Dr. Stephen Hobson for their ability to blend their voices to the traditionally fine music of the group.

Each year the Nemo Singers join the Concert Band for a tour of Northern Missouri, Southern Iowa, Western Illinois and the St. Louis area. They present approximately fifteen programs of classical selections, popular songs and Negro spirituals.

A new chapel adds grandeur to the Baptist Student Union building on the campus.

Baptist students congregate for fellowship at the Baptist Student Union

"Never on Sunday" but all through the week the Baptist Student Center provided the setting for church-related activities for Baptist students and friends.

A chapel opened during fall quarter rapidly became a favored meeting place for campus groups as well as for regularly scheduled weekday religious services. Added basement area permitted an enlarged recreation program.

BSU members may recall with nostalgia highlights of 1961-62, such as patio picnics, gospel teams, monthly supper programs, intramurals, and Religious Emphasis Week. "Fifth Quarter Festivities" following football and basketball games, pizza suppers, banquets, retreats, conventions, Sunday services at First Church crowded with nearly 200 other college friends, and yard decorations at Homecoming rounded out an intensive religious-centered extra-curriculum.

President Doyle and the Executive Council steered the group to its tenth annual highest rating from the national offices to climax a good year.

From barbeques to buzz sessions with B.S.U.

BSU members appetites soared as the girls spread the mouth-watering supper under sunny fall skies. Whether attracted by such substantial meals, or the less calorie-filled food-for-thought of the informal buzz session, students never failed to throng the Student Center.

Conversations over "coketails" and quiet study in the lounge covered the gamut of student life--all within the basically religious-centered context.

Serious studying, philosophizing, and hilarious cutting-up all have a place in the lounge of the BSU.

Coketime is playtime in the basement of the Baptist Student Union.

Wait, girls! It's fattening!

Church and college education merges through Wesley Foundation

Before leaving the registration line, KSTC students meet members of the Methodist Wesley Foundation extending invitations to fellowship. Wesley is the organized educational ministry reaching from the Methodist Church to campus. In a unified approach to students, faculty, and staff, Wesley Foundation stresses participation in college life.

Worship, study, and discussion sessions keep religious emphasis and responsibility always before the members. However, such piety and meditation doesn't exemplify Wesley's gay, witty atmosphere at other times.

Fall finds them building Homecoming floats or singing from hayricks. In the spring, all get out corn-cob pipes and head for a hillbilly weekend in the Ozarks in South Missouri.

Convinced that their faith is of year-round duration, Wesleyans continue their activities throughout the summer quarter.

If "it's a grand night for singing," the Wesley Quartet composed of Phil Gosling, Roger Gartrell, Mike Chapman, and Rufus Winslow may likely be heard.

Snug under the shelter house at Forest Lake, Newman Club Members use their imaginations to turn hamburger to steak.

Newman Club turns rebel for fall dance

With rebel yells of loyalty and energy, Newman Club swept into the fall session by staging a "Rebel Rouser" dance. True sons of both North and South captured the spirit of fun and cooperation.

Follow-up victories included a get-acquainted party at Thousand Hills State Park in September, a spaghetti supper, and a Day of Recollection.

Newman Club members are representatives of the Catholic religion on campus. Pilgrimages are made to retreats at Conception Abbey, P.E.C. meetings at St. Joseph and Kansas City, and a Province Convention.

Business, social, and Patrician meetings are held each month by KSTC's chapter of the National Club. The latter are dedicated to discussions of religious life in college; its importance and problems.

Taking a break from the swift dance tempo beat by "Jan McDonald's Combo," Carol Aeschliman is refreshed at the Newman Club soda stand.

Religion is primary in U.C.C.F. conducts clinic U.P.Y.

From party politics to the bomb scare, College United Presbyterian Youth's programs ran the timely gamut of today's anxieties. Besides such serious subjects, the group found time for a hayride, a "Chili Day" fund-raising project, and selected religious movies.

Birds chirped and bees buzzed figuratively as the United Campus Christian Fellowship conducted its Courtship and Marriage Clinic. Other highlights included organizing the UCCF players and winning the religious organization plaque for the most donors to the Red Cross Blood Program.

Lutherans study Christian living

Service and knowledge are key words in Gamma Delta, association of Lutheran students. This religious organization promotes Christian knowledge through Bible study and service to its fellowmen in a Christian atmosphere.

Gamma Delta discusses topics which help them understand their church and lead a Christian life at college through vespers, services, recreation, and refreshments.

Young Masons prepare for future

The compass of Square and Compass Club traces a membership circle which any student who is a Mason may enter. The Teachers College organization works closely with local Masonic citizenry.

Spring banquet guests, President Walter Ryle and Dean Wray Rieger, urged the group to continue its study and promotion of Freemasonry principles.

Echo Staff Members work many 24-hour days

A frozen Pepsi-cola leaned precariously on the third story window ledge. Inside, a coffee-maker gleamed, out of character with the stacks of cups turned murky by strong brew. The radio, typewriters, and coat-rack stood silent. Editor Jerry's whip sprawled, limp, in the corner.

Yet such a scene did not denote defeat, but a glorious victory. THE ECHO HAD GONE TO PRESS! None but the yearbook staff who had endured Wick's worrying, Dale's fretting, Vic's frolicking, and Ja Cee's conniving could appreciate their triumph.

As well as authentic staff contributions, profound cutlines, artistic lay-out, and comedy relief were added by volunteers. Fritz Gottschalk, Linda Wickless, Alice Rhodes, Alice Snyder, Bryant Tate, Dee Roberts, and Helen Babbitt, sponsor, likewise perfected KSTC's yearbook. The additional time and effort given to the staff by Mr. Glenn Rider proved invaluable throughout the year.

Do not break silence. Men working.

Roger Soderman, Cameraman.

Classes

Each year on campus represents a new chapter in the lives of the student body classified under the titles of freshman, sophomore, junior or senior. These titles tell a story and set a mood quite important to each individual.

Classes tell a story for the wondering and confused freshman, the pensive sophomore, the experienced junior and the fearful senior waiting to don the mortar board and gown in his exit from school. Beyond these groups is the graduate who obviously realizes the changing times necessitates a need for further education.

Classes indicate progress, a primary concern of the student who is trying to pass his course with honors. And within each class there are usually the closest friends and the greatest memories of the four or more years in college.

“Old Missou”

“Old Missou” and “Old Missouri,”
 And thou our love hath won,
 Fondly cling thee to the mem’ry
 Of old “Missouri’s Son.”
 Gladly thee our hearts we tender
 By the dim and flick’ring light,
 Every lad a proud defender
 Of the Purple and the White.

In debates or feats athletic,
 The broader field of life,
 Midst the shifting scenes of progress,
 Where the fiercest fights are rife,
 Taught by many a glorious vict’ry
 From many a hard fought fight,
 They have learned they have to reckon
 With the Purple and the White.

Hark the sounds of yells exult’ng
 From out the Tigers Den!
 Did ye hear the shouts of triumph?
 ’Twas the Warrensburg brave men.
 Far above them hark the tumult,
 Like the triumph of the right.
 Underneath the sacred symbol
 Of the Purple and the White.

Though to Harvard, Yale or Princeton
 Should we onward still pursue,
 As adopted “Sons of Eli”
 To the violets prove true,
 Shall we ever cease to love thee,
 To tremble with delight
 As we mark the gallant flutter
 Of the Purple and the White!
